JOSEPH BARNBY'S

"Endless Alleluia."

FOUR-PART CHORAL HYMN.

"One of the grandest tunes perhaps ever written to a hymn. It is of so marked a character, that the most unenlightened in music must be carried away by its natural forcefulness, and the most learned must be struck with its expression, and with the unacknowledged but most natural harmonies upon which it is based. The words also are remarkable, being a translation by the Rev. John Ellerton, of a noble hymn supposed to be older than the eighth century."—Choir and Musical Record.

"A noble hymn translated by the Rev. J. Ellerton, in the unusual metrical pattern of ten, ten, seven, the two lines of ten syllables being followed in each verse by the burden 'An Endless Alleluia.' Mr. Barnby has dashed off for these glorious words a few bold chant-like phrases, the 'tune' of which is sweeping, the harmonies manly and modern, the whole forming, unless we much miss the mark, a congregational hymn of triumphant praise, the swing of which, when led with spirit by a good choir would be irresistible."—Church Choirmaster and Organist.

"Really an exceptionally fine instance of simplicity and grandeur combined."—Press and St. James' Chronicle.

"A grand old eighth century hymn, and must become (independent of the splendid tune to which it is united) a general favourite. The tune, the composition of Joseph Barnby, is sufficient of itself to establish (were it not already established) the reputation of its gifted composer. It is exquisite throughout, and the last two verses, executed by a number of voices, would not fall far short of the sublime."—Birkenhead Times.

Price 3d. Words alone, 2s. per 100.

No. 1 OF A

NEW MUSICAL MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

TO BE ENTITLED

"EXETER HALL."

Prospectus.

"EXETER HALL" will be, as its name in some manner imports, a Magazine of Sacred Music, vocal and instrumental, especially adapted for SUNDAY EVENING in the family circle. Each number will comprise Sacred Songs and Hymn Tunes, arranged for Voice and Piano; also Pianoforte and Harmonium pieces, etc. These will be both original and selected; but in every case the arrangements will be new and copyright. The list of contributors will include many of the foremost living authors and composers of devotional music, whose works hitherto have not been popularly accessible. In this respect, "EXETER HALL" claims a specialty amongst contemporary musical publications.

"EXETER HALL" will be larger in form than any existing Musical Magazine, and will be elegantly printed from engraved plates. Each number will be beautifully illustrated, in lithograph, from original designs, and after the old masters. The wrapper will be richly illuminated; and, altogether, it is believed that "EXETER HALL" will be not only thoroughly original in design and execution, but also one of the cheapest and handsomest Magazines ever offered to the public.

Number I. will contain the following new and original pieces viz. :—

I. "Queen Mary's Prayer," Sacred Song, by Miss M. LINDSAY.

II. Sacred Themes from GOUNOD, arranged for Piano, by E. F. RIMBAULT.

III. New Hymn Tune, by C. E. WILLING (Organist of the Foundling).

IV. "The Benediction," Set to Music by STEPHEN GLOVER.

V. Sunday Evenings at the Harmonium. No. I.

MOSCHELES, J.—"Domestic Life." Twelve
Characteristic Duets for the Pianoforte, dedicated to his Grandchildren. Price complete, 10s. 6d. net.

OR SINGLY:—
No. 1 Brother and Sister . . . 2 0	No. 8 Grandmother at her spinning wheel . . . 2 6
2 Affection . . . 1 6	9 Soldier's Life . . . 3 0
3 Altercation . . . 2 6	10 Serenade . . . 2 0
4 Grandfather's dance . . . 3 0	11 Quickstep . . . 3 0
5 Elegy . . . 2 6	12 Canon alla Tarantella . . . 4 0
6 A fugal waltz . . . 5 0
7 The Harper's ballad . . . 3 0

There is too little pianoforte music comparable with this put forward at the time present. These twelve duets are full of idea, humour, and capital science—wrought out cautiously, yet without fear of consequences—vide the Fugal Waltz, No. 6, and the Canon alla Tarantella, No. 12. Both contain problems to be solved, but in neither is the solution of the problem pedantically obtruded. Prof. Moscheles never writes unless he has something to say; and the least important of these twelve duets, which cannot be too strongly commended to duet-players of all ages and capacities, has some phrase of unborrowed melody—some happy touch of artful science—to remind us that we have to do with a new work by one who has been from first to last an original thinker and (in his day) an incomparable exhibitor of the pianoforte, with its modern effects and wonders.—Athenæum, October 26th, 1867.

MUSICAL DEVELOPMENT.
Being an attempt to show the action in Music of certain fundamental laws of human expression, with a view to deduce the true spiritual aims of the chief forms of composition, and to lay down the broad principles which should regulate their construction. By JOSEPH GODDARD, Author of "The Philosophy of Music."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"It contains much sensible thought."—Examiner.

"This is an earnest book by an enthusiastic thinker on the art. . . . It would be impossible to follow the writer through his very ingenious and intelligent arguments in proof of the theory explained in his opening chapter; but we may say he appears to have thoroughly studied the styles of the various composers, and to have rightly classed them. . . . Some such thoughtful work as this is assuredly well-timed."—Musical Times.

"We strongly advise musicians to add the book to their store, and its contents to their minds."—Musical Standard.

"It would be impossible within the limits of a brief notice to do anything like justice to the manner in which these ideas are worked out in the seven well-written and extremely interesting chapters of which this volume consists. . . . The remarks upon modern oratorios and cantata writing are particularly apropos."—Morning Star.

ANDANTE FOR THE ORGAN. By F. E. GLADSTONE. London: Novello, Ewer and Co.

PROFESSOR TYNDALL'S LECTURES ON SOUND.

In crown 8vo., with 169 Woodcuts, price 9s.

SOUND; a Course of Eight Lectures delivered at the Royal Institution of Great Britain. By JOHN TYNDALL, LL.D., F.R.S., &c., Prof. of Nat. Philos. in the Royal Institution and in the Royal School of Mines.

"Professor Tyndall is not only a master in his science, taking rank beside the great experimentalists and investigators, but a master in the art of exposition, whether addressing learned or popular audiences. His volume of Lectures will bring plainly before any intelligent mind several of those operations which have not only been invisible, but to most minds unintelligible; it will not only clear up what has puzzled most people in the phenomena of Sound, but will give distinctness to their vague conceptions of waves and wave-lengths. So crowded is this volume with matter that we can make no attempt in these few lines to give more than a general indication of its scope."—Pail Mail Gazette.
